biodiversity, combat climate change, and provide cleaner air and a healthier environment for future generations.

Details of the Event:

The NSS Unit of Prasanta Chandra Mahalanobis Mahavidyalaya organized a tree plantation programme to celebrate World Environment Day. This programme was held on 7th June 2022 at 1 P.M in our college campus. 72 volunteers and 12 faculty members participated in this Tree Plantation Drive. Trees produce oxygen, prevent soil erosion, help reduce the impact of pollution and even promote physiological and spiritual health. The strategic location of the college is instrumental in contributing towards the conservation of the flora and fauna of the unique ecosystem of the Bonhooghly Lake area. This drive will go a long way in enhancing the biodiversity of the area. Members of the community were also invited to plant trees within the campus to raise their awareness about ecological conservation.

Outcome:

1. Total Saplings Planted: 100 saplings of various native species such as Neem, Peepal, Banyan, and Gulmohar.
2. Increased awareness among participants about the significance of trees and environmental conservation.

The workshop focused on activities of the NSS and how volunteering with the NSS can help promote community development. 91 NSS volunteers accompanied by 2 faculty members visited Baranagar Mohan Girls' High School on 21.02.2023 to encourage their students to partake in community outreach and extension activities held by the NSS unit of Prasanta Chandra Mahalanobis Mahavidyalaya. This is to ensure that the entire community becomes aware of the benefits of community development. School students are future college students and they need an orientation towards social work, this workshop focused on this particular need. The students of the school were motivated by our NSS volunteers to participate in the community development of the adopted wards of the college.

Outcome:

1. Engaging volunteers in outreach activity to develop in them skills of communication and leadership and attitude of empathy and sensitivity. Also to encourage them to mentor and peer-teach their juniors.
